Angling at Pancheshwar & Chuka

Angling in Uttarakhand is a popular activity that attracts tourists from all over the world. The state is home to some of the most beautiful rivers and streams that are teeming with a variety of fish species, including trout, mahseer, and catfish. The clear waters and stunning natural surroundings make angling in Uttarakhand a truly magical experience. Many of the angling spots in Uttarakhand are located in remote areas, which means that you can enjoy a peaceful and relaxing fishing experience. It's important to note that angling in Uttarakhand is regulated by the government, and you will need to get a permit before you are allowed to fish.

River Rafting at Kali River & Saryu River

Tanakpur, in the Champawat district, is home to river rafting excursions on the Kali and Saryu Rivers. The emerald-green Saryu River is the largest tributary of the Kali River. Beautiful forests and wildlife surround this glacial-fed river. Tanakpur rafting began in 2015, but it has quickly become a favorite for adventurers because it's cheaper, less crowded, and offers a similar experience to the more mainstream rafting sites. The rafting section in Kali & Saryu River is a long stretch, with rapids ranging from Class 1 to Class 4. Secluded beaches and thrilling rafting make this adventure unique. Here, adventurers can combine jungle trekking, beach camping, and rappelling.

Wildlife Safari at Nandhaur Wildlife Sanctuary

Nandhaur Wildlife Sanctuary was established in 2012 within the Terai Arc Landscape, which spans from Uttarakhand in India to Nepal. It is the Uttarakhand region's tiger reserve with the highest tiger population density. The Wildlife Institute of India recognized Nandhaur as one of the three tiger-sustaining habitats in 2004. The sanctuary's sal forest is home to 25 mammal species, 250 birds, 15 reptiles, and 20 fish, including Asian elephants, leopards, tigers, and sloth bears. The sanctuary offers unspoiled terrain, forests, trails, and landscapes, making it an ideal destination for nature and wildlife enthusiasts with safari facilities.
